GC Wharf Freight Volume Up 60%

Bi-State Operation Here Handled 75,559 Tons in 1969-70 Year

A 60% shipping increase at the Granite City harbor was noted Friday as the Bi-State Development Agency issued its annual report for the fiscal year ended June 30.

In a letter addressed to Gov. Warren E. Hearnes and Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, Bi-State Chairman Robert S. Knapp reported that major strides were made in the past year in planning for a rapid transit system for the Bi-State metropolitan area. The area includes Madison, Monroe and St. Clair counties in Illinois, the City of St. Louis and St. Charles, Jefferson and St. Louis counties in Missouri.

Knapp said that the balanced transit system will have a dramatic effect on the area's development, and should improve land values, strengthen the central business district and stimulate growth of suburban employment and commercial centers.

"Legislation now pending in Congress hopefully will provide at least two-thirds of the cost from federal sources," Knapp said. "Substantial community and state support will be required, however, if the proposed system is to become a reality.

State Support Needed

"We hope that the states will not lose sight of the fact that the continuation of our existing public transit system is vital. The first step toward realization of rapid transit is the upgrading of the existing public transportation system. Unless this is done, there will be no base of public ridership from which the rapid transit patronage can be built," Knapp added.

The report also points up the financial dilemma of Bi-State Transit System in the fiscal year ended last Feb. 28, which resulted primarily from declining passenger revenues. The downward trend in patronage has continued through the first few months of the current year and between March 1 and March 31 was off 7.25 per cent. June passenger revenues were down 10 per cent, the report reveals.

Despite economic conditions, the report makes it clear that the present trend of deficit operations must not continue. Rather the system must generate sufficient funds to meet operating costs and other required payments such as in-

Vocational Addition at Madison High Budgeted

The Madison board of education charted its financial course for the year Thursday night, adopting 1970 tax levies totaling $838,159 and a 1970-71 budget amounting to $2,562,044. Construction of a Madison high school vocational addition was budgeted.

The levies are up $8031 and the budget is an increase of $213,730 over the 1969-70 budget of $2,348,314. Expenditures during the past year totaled $2,269,573.

The new tax levies amount to $518,000 for education, $129,159 for bonds and interest, $121,000 for the building fund, $40,000 for the retirement fund, $22,500 for transportation and $7500 for junior college tuition.

The levy figures a year ago were $516,000, $123,628, $122,000, $35,000, $20,000 and $4000.

The new budget (with the previous year's totals given in parentheses) includes $1,921,795 for education ($1,761,130), $36,620 ($32,200) for retirement, $30,600 ($27,200) for pupil transportation, $150,780 ($130,587) for the federal Title I or Project Uplife program, $4000 (same) for the federal Title II or library program, $135,200 ($125,000) for the school lunch program, $149,920 ($131,800) for the building fund and $133,128 ($136,396) for bonds and interest.

Changes made Thursday in the tentative budget announced a month ago included $6000 placed in the education fund maintenance account for salaries.

With a $12,000 allocation for repairs and replacements, the maintenance total rose to $18,000.

In the building fund, $120 was added for rental costs, raising the allocation for fixed charges to $62,748; capital outlay was boosted from $19,000 to $49,000; and maintenance was trimmed from $70,000 to $40,000.

The capital outlay budget had listed $9000 for equipment and $10,000 for a site. The revised figures are $6000 for equipment, none for a site and $43,000 for new construction and improvements — a proposed vocational classrooms addition to Madison high school.

Building fund maintenance had shown $31,000 for salaries, $21,000 for contracted services and $18,000 for repairs and replacements.

These figures in the permanently adopted 1970-71 budget, in the same order, are $15,000, $7000 and $18,000.

First Jail Sentence for Pollution

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott announced Friday that the first jail sentence for an act of pollution was given that day to an East St. Louis salvage and auto parts dealer.

Judge Carl Becker of the St. Clair county circuit court ordered a six-month jail term for Clarence Hutchinson, operator of the 18th Street Auto Parts firm at 918 North 15th, for alleged willful violation of an earlier injunction against the open burning of junked vehicles by Hutchinson. The jail term was later suspended when Hutchinson entered a plea of financial hardship.

Judge Becker warned that any future violation could result in actual imprisonment.

Open Burning Enjoined

Specifically, Hutchinson had been enjoined on April 17 from discharging "into the atmosphere by open burning . . . particulate matter, dust, fumes, gas mist, smoke, or vapor in sufficient qualities, and of such character and duration as to be injurious to human, plant or animal life or property, and which unreasonably interferred with the enjoyment of life or property and caused or created a public nuisance . . ."

Assistant Attorney General John Leskera told the court Friday that on at least two occasions—May 19 and June 8—incinerators were fired up at night at the salvage yard in direct defiance of the court's earlier restraining order.

Witnesses from the East St. Louis fire department and three field engineers for the new Environmental Protection Agency testified to the continued burning. Judge Becker then found Hutchinson in contempt of court and issued the state's first jail sentence for an act of pollution.

Assistant Attorney General Jim D. Keehner, chief of Scott's downstate Pollution Control Division, said the jail sentence, though suspended due to financial hardships, "represents a clear warning to all air and water polluters that the courts are prepared to rigidly enforce the anti-pollution statutes of this state, and we view that action with considerable satisfaction."

B. C. 'Tip' O'Neill Dies

B. C. "TIP" O'NEILL

Bernard C. "Tip" O'Neill, 60, of 3901 Wabash avenue, Granite City real estate dealer who was active in many community organizations, died at 11:15 p.m. Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mr. O'Neill became ill while on a business trip to Chicago early last week. He was brought by ambulance from Chicago to the local hospital Tuesday and underwent surgery the same day. Death was attributed to complications.

A resident here since 1950, Mr. O'Neill was co-owner of the Granite City Realty Company, 1414 Twenty-first street. He entered into partnership in the firm with Herman O. Schroeder of Granite City only last April 1. Previously, Mr. O'Neill was a real estate agent for many years with the Francis Agency here.

For close to two decades, Mr. O'Neill's customary practice of sending bouquets of green-tinted carnations on St. Patrick's Day to nearly 50 area business firms, including the Press-Record, had become a traditional gesture.

Served as Appraiser

He had served as a property appraiser for the city of Granite City, in connection with right-of-way acquisition to widen Nameoki road and for various sewer installation projects.

Mr. O'Neill was a past Exalted Ruler of Granite City Elk's Lodge 1063; past president of Granite City Optimist Club; and a past director of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce. He continued to hold membership in each of these organizations and also was a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church; the St. Elizabeth Holy Name Society; Knights of Columbus, Tri-City Council 1098; National Association of Real Estate Boards; Society of Real Estate

Refund, Election May Result in Levee Case

A petition for a declaratory judgement to determine the legality of payment of fees to attorneys hired by the East Side Levee & Sanitary District is to be filed in Madison county circuit court by Marshall Smith, assistant state's attorney.

The question arose after the four trustees of the district were indicted and convicted of five counts of misconduct in office last Monday in St. Clair county circuit court.

St. Clair county State's Atty. Robert Rice plans to seek an election of new trustees to replace the current board members after sentencing. The four were given 30 days to file motions.

District records show that during the last 10 years 14 attorneys received a total of $232,295, and that $92,024 of the amount may have been paid illegally, Smith said.

State statutes provide for legal fees not to exceed $3500 per year for an attorney, and Smith said he is studying two similar cases which have gone to the Illinois Supreme Court. The cases involve the Wood River drainage district, where a $40,000 legal fee was upheld, and the Chicago sanitary district.

One of the counts involved overpayment of fees in 1969, leading to the conviction of Morris Campbell, president of the district, Lawrence T. Tolar, George Duff and William Eberoldt.

Attorneys and fees over $3500 paid last year are John R. Sprague, $46,042; John Hoban, $17,929; John A. Brock jr., $9351; Sprague & Bock, $11,600; Frank Summers, $2550; Thomas O'Donnell, $1426; Frank Pattner, $3493; and Marvin W. Goldenhersh, $531. All are from St. Clair county.

Forfeiture of office will be automatic upon sentencing, according to Rice, who said he would start proceedings to obtain a new election which would be called by Gov. Ogilvie.

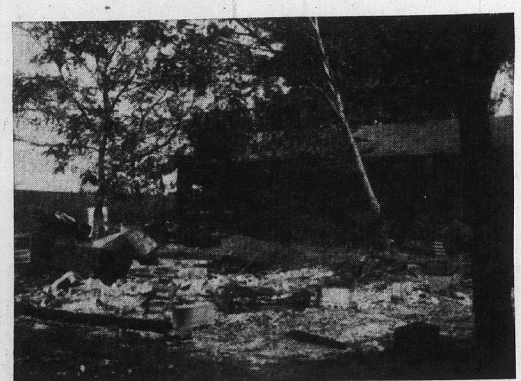

The maximum penalty according to Illinois law is a $1000 fine and up to five years in prison, in addition to forfeiture of office.

Madison Man, 24, Dies After Venice Shooting

Wounded in the left shoulder and chest area by a bullet between 1 and 2 a.m. Saturday outside Madison Garrett's tavern, 337 Weaver street, Venice, Garrett's son-in-law, Zemry Riley, 24, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was pronounced dead in the emergency room at 2:20 a.m.

A murder charge was placed against Erving Young, 44, of 1137 Market street, who turned himself in at 4:20 a.m. Saturday. Mr. Riley, a St. Elizabeth Hospital employee, resided at 601 West Third street, Madison.

Police said witnesses told them Mr. Riley's wife, Felicia, working for her father as a barmaid, informed customers that it was closing time and they would have to leave. One allegedly refused to leave and argued with her, Riley then intervening.

The dispute continued outdoors in the middle of Weaver street. A short time later, at 2:05 a.m., police were dispatched to the tavern area, having been told that three men had been fighting and that Mr. Riley and Tyrone Walker, 22, of East St. Louis had been shot. A .22 caliber pistol is believed to have been used.

Witnesses said a third man, wearing a black leather coat, ran east on Douglas street.

Mr. Riley had been taken to the hospital by an unidentified witness, and police took Walker to the hospital for treatment of an apparent gunshot wound in a hand. He declined medical attention.

Eastern Heat, Power Crisis Eased by Midwestern Firms

Electric companies in Illinois and throughout mid-America combined in shipping electric power to the east coast to help prevent a massive outage there during the heat-induced eastern power shortage last week, Wendell J. Kelley, president of Illinois Power Co., said Friday.

At the request of David H. Armstrong, chairman of the Illinois Commerce Commission, Kelley told a press conference that companies in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri and Iowa, with assistance from neighboring states, provided up to 2,350,000 kilowatts of energy at times for the embattled eastern companies during the peak periods of demand in New York, Washington and other major eastern load centers.

Kelley is chairman of the Mid-America Interpool Network (MAIN) and a member of the board of the National Electric Reliability Council (NERC) which coordinates the voluntary efforts of regional councils such as MAIN.

The MAIN group embraces 18 investor-owned companies, and various cooperatives and municipal utility entities in a five-state area, serving nearly 25,000,000 persons in 263,000 square miles.

The generating capacity of MAIN companies approaches 33,000,000 kilowatts, Kelley pointed out.

Margin of Safety

"This vast capacity has been designed to provide our customers with reliable electric service with a margin of safety planned over many years," Kelley said.

"The idea of lending, or shipping, surplus capacity to other needful areas is not new. We have been doing it for years as a voluntary effort to provide national power reliability. At times we have been on the receiving end of this system.

"The interest of the chairman of the Illinois Commerce Commission in this voluntary effort is completely understandable. His commission has examined our planning and has encouraged our efforts."

Kelley said it is difficult to assess "who did what" in alleviating the eastern shortage.

"We are so thoroughly interconnected it is impossible to determine at any one moment which plant, which system is providing the help.

"Electricity, like water, runs to the lowest point, but the drive of the voluntary power groupings, over many years, has been to see that no matter what route energy takes, neighbor helps neighbor."

Eastern power complexes have been forced to reduce voltage at times, to cut off circuits for brief periods, and to take other means to conserve energy and keep the systems in balance.

Eased Critical Situation

"Without the help from the Midwest and other regions, which is the name of the game insofar as interregional cooperation is concerned, they would have been in more critical condition," Mr. Kelley said.

Power from the Mid-America area was fed through two principal interconnections, eastward through the American Electric Power system which embraces Indiana, Ohio and states to the east.

The energy was gathered either by the Illinois-Missouri Pool (Illinois Power Co., Union Electric Co. and Central Illinois Public Service Co.) or the Commonwealth Edison system in northern Illinois, both feeding into AEP and eastward.

Among contributions of power at various peak times were:

Company	Kilowatts
Illinois Power Co.	400,000
Central Illinois Public Service Co.	150,000
Union Electric Co.	500,000
Central Illinois Light Co.	150,000
Commonwealth Edison Co.	700,000
Missouri systems	400,000
Wisconsin and Minnesota systems	450,000
Iowa systems	100,000

Carmody Pontiac Gets Quad-City Franchise

The Carmody Pontiac agency of East St. Louis has been granted the Quad-City territory to its franchise by the Pontiac division of General Motors Corp., it was announced Friday.

The dealership here formerly was held by the Hundley agency.

Construction will start soon on the modern steel structure, Carmody said. The agency's expanded territory will include Cahokia and East St. Louis in addition to the Quad-Cities.

Carmody said the firm will be announcing new models after the current strike against GM, but he hoped to have some on display at the new site soon, including the luxury Granville model and GMC trucks.

The dealer has been in business in East St. Louis since 1952. Before that he was with the Pontiac Motor division in St. Louis and Chicago.

Park District Plans Giant City Park Trip

The Granite City park district will sponsor its fifth annual fall tour through picturesque regions of Illinois and Missouri on Sunday, Oct. 25, Harold Brown, superintendent of parks, announced today.

This year, the autumn tour will take excursionists into the scenic Giant City State Park area of Illinois, Brown said. A maximum of 180 persons will be accommodated on four buses making the one-day trip.

Reservations may be made by calling the Wilson Park office at 877-3059. Deadline for reserving seats is Monday, Oct. 19.

Cost per person will be $7.25, including a smorgasbord meal at noon. The dinner will feature various main dishes, plus dessert and beverage. Buses will depart at 8:30 a.m. Oct. 25 from the Wilson Park rink parking area.

The tourists will travel south on Route 13 to Carbondale. A rest stop and coffee break is scheduled prior to reaching Carbondale where two buses will proceed to Marion and two to West Frankfort, arriving at restaurants in the two locations shortly before noon hour.

The four vehicles will regroup about 1:30 p.m. and travel southward to Giant City State Park, near Makanda, Ill. The 380-mile round trip also will take the excursionists to the Bald Knob area, returning via Route 127 and Highway 3 to Granite City.

For the past several years, the one-day fall tour has been a sell-out attraction, Brown said in reminding local residents to make their reservations as quickly as possible.

The park district's special three-day weekend excursion into the Shepherd of the Hills region of southwestern Missouri's lake country, scheduled Oct. 16-18, is completely "sold out," the park official said.

Pollution Bond Issue Proposal Is Endorsed

The Illinois State Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the $750 million pollution control bond referendum to be voted on Nov. 3.

In announcing the action by the board of directors of the 20,000-member statewide business organization, President William J. Crowley said:

"The pollution level of Illinois waterways calls for immediate action. Illinois citizens must realize that passage of the bond issue is vital if we are to clean up our rivers, lakes and streams."

Charles L. Brown jr., chairman of Illinois Citizens for Clean Water and president of Illinois Bell Telephone Co., commented, "I am pleased that the State Chamber has recognized the need for passage of the bond issue. This important endorsement spotlights local pollution problems.

"It is essential to the passage of the referendum that each citizen understand how the bond issue can help meet these local needs, and that each local Chamber cooperate in helping to inform citizens about this critical problem."

The bond act would be used to help communities and sanitary districts in the planning, financing and construction of municipal sewage treatment works and solid waste disposal facilities.

Crowley added, "We urge passage of the bond issue in order that funds may be made available immediately and to permit the state's new Environmental Protection Agency to implement, as quickly as possible, an orderly, planned 10-year program of sewage treatment improvements enabling the state to meet federal water quality standards." Crowley is chairman of the finance committee of Northern Illinois Gas Co., Aurora.

HIGHLIGHTING the new Ford lineup now on display at B. E. Hohlt, Inc. is the 1971 Pinto, a top runner in the American economy car line.

1971 Fords Are Now On Display At Hohlt Agency

Ford Division's 46 models in six car lines for 1971 range from the all-new Pinto and best-selling Maverick in the economy market to the restyled Ford and elegant Thunderbird, while the most completely changed Mustang will provide new interest to sporty compact buyers.

"The 1971 year stacks up as nothing short of a vintage hardware year in the auto business," according to B. E. Hohlt, operator of the Hohlt Ford Agency, 1837 Madison avenue. "Our product line-up not only includes a new entry in a new size for us, but exciting changes in Mustang and Ford as well. This significant investment in new design and engineering changes should add real momentum to recent indications of an upturn in auto sales," Hohlt said.

"The action in '71 is bound to be in the small car arena," Hohlt added "and our Pinto is going to be right in the thick of the donnybrook. Combined with Maverick in both the two-door and new four-door version, we've got a one-two small car punch that gives us the strongest entry in the industry in this increasingly important market."

Pinto Easy on Budget

The Pinto is Ford's answer to the demand for a small, sporty and economical American automobile. The standard four-cylinder water-cooled engine delivers 75 horsepower and promises about 25 miles to the gallon. With standard four-speed floor mounted shifting, an instrument cluster and standard bucket seats, the Pinto is rated as a car enjoyable to drive and easy on the budget.

Also on display in the Hohlt showroom is the 1971 Maverick. One notch larger than the Pinto, the Maverick offers sporty transportation at a low price with a full range of options. The new models include a Maverick 4-door sedan and the popular Grabber sport sedan.

Torino this year offers a revamped lineup of 14 models including two four-door sedans, six two-door hardtops, two-four door hardtops, three station wagons and a convertible. Aimed at the intermediate market, Tornino offers style, performance and Economy.

Mustang Style Changes

The major styling change for 1971 has taken form in the 1971 Mustang. A thinner roof section, flush door handles, hidden windshield wipers and a wide range of options give the Mustang a new sleekness. Ford's new side-impact protection system is now standard on all 1971 Mustangs, improving the impact absorbing qualities of the auto with a minimum of added weight.

The 1971 Thunderbird is expected to stay at the top of the most popular personal luxury car list. Additions to the 1971 model include a revised grille and a chrome plated valance panel on the lower portion of the front bumper.

Also on display at the Hohlt Agency is the 1971 Ford which this year offers 11 sedans and hardtops, seven station wagons and a convertible. Smoother, sculptured lines give the new models a more formal overall look and a complete list of options is available on all models.

GC Soldier Cited for Good Work in Vietnam

Army Pfc Russell William Hamilton, serving with the 864th Engineer Battalion (Construction), near Phan Thiet, Vietnam, has been cited for "a job well done" in a letter of appreciation from his commanding officers.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Hamilton, 4461 Highway 162, and fiance of Miss Kathy Kibort, 1617 Primrose avenue.

The citation read in part — "Pfc Hamilton has given superior performance in all his work. Since his assignment to this unit on July 21, 1970, Pfc Hamilton has worked as a carpenter in the Second Construction Platoon. The quality of work that he produces, being typical only of a sincere and dedicated craftsman, has earned him the admiration of his comrades and the respect of his superiors.

Pfc Hamilton's civil experience prior to active duty service has greatly enhanced the effectiveness of this unit. Not only can he be relied upon to do professional work but he is often disposed to improve the work of others, inspiring them with helpful suggestions from his store of experience. He is a highly motivated and tenacious soldier who sets the pace for his counterparts to follow and is a source of encouragement to his superiors.

"Pfc Hamilton has performed his duties in the highest spirit of personal pride and proficiency and I commend him highly, encouraging his continued devotion to the service of his country. Signed: Capt. William T. Knose, CE, commanding; and Lt. Col. Phillip D. Engle, CE, commanding."

Kentucky Fried Chicken Again Tops Food Field

Institutions, the food industry's foremost magazine, has again rated the Kentucky Fried Chicken Corp. as the largest commercial food retailer in the U. S.

The 1970 "400" rankings shows Kentucky Fried Chicken to be number one with retail sales of $581 million. This is the second successive year in which it has received top rank. In 1969, it was first with retail sales of $430 million. Only the U. S. Army, the U. S. Navy and the U. S. Department of Agriculture School Lunch Program exceed it in food production.

The "400" awards refer to the 400 top food service operators in the U. S. Criteria for the award—in addition to volume of food sold—are the quality of food served, the cleanliness of the premises and the service of the operator. Kentucky Fried Chicken now has 2766 stores in the U. S. and by the end of 1970 will have almost 350 stores abroad.

GI Photos for Fun Fair Accepted Until Thursday

The deadline has been extended through Thursday evening for Quad-City area families to submit photographs of servicemen for display in the USO booth at the United Fun Fair this weekend.

Raymond Uram of Granite City, a national director of the United Service Organization (USO), an agency of the Tri-Cities United Fund, announced last week the USO booth will feature photographs and addresses of local soldiers, marines, airmen, sailors and coastguardsmen.

As an additional service, Uram said today the USO display center will have about 2000 mimeograph letters persons are being asked to sign which urge the North Vietnamese leaders to release the names of American prisoners of war; provide POW servicemen humane treatment and allow inspection of prison camps by International Red Cross representatives.

The USO has long supported a national letter writing project urging the Hanoi government to identify Americans held prisoner, Uram said.

"In this instance, we are cooperating with Mrs. Sandy (Noeth) Innes, who is collecting signatures from area residents.

The signed letters, compiled from across the nation, will be shipped to Vietnam by the Postmaster General. Uram said the USO formerly advocated persons writing letters and sending them to Hanoi on an individual basis, as opposed to an organized campaign.

Mrs. Innes' husband, Navy Lt. Roger B. Innes, 23, a flier was reported missing in action in Vietnam on Dec. 27, 1967. His wife since has waited for word that he is a prisoner of war. "We are very happy to cooperate with her in this project," Uram said.

All photographs submited for display in the USO booth should have the serviceman's name plainly marked on the back. Those to be returned also should be marked with the sender's address, Uram said. The address of Armed Forces members may be written on a separate sheet of paper.

Photographs should be mailed to the Uram home, 2418 Lynch avenue. It is hoped visitors to the United Fun Fair will inspect the pictures and note the address, later writing to the serviceman to renew old friendships, Uram explained.

SIU-SW, Sheriff In Agreement on Campus Security

University officials also want to prevent a false alarm like the one which arose last spring when sheriff's deputies entered the campus on a report of a fire in one of the buildings.

The need for a clear set of rules and procedures in emergency cases in which outside authorities would be involved was seen by some university officials.

However, State's Atty. Roland W. Griffith objected that the university "is not an island by itself and is not outside a regular police network just because there is a crisis."

He said the sheriff's office is responsible for law enforcement in the county and could not be bound by an agreement which would place a limitation on its duties.

Griffith also said that if an individual should file a complaint with his office over an incident at the campus, the next move would be up to his office.

Davis said the agreement was not intended to compromise the sheriff's authority but an attempt to make a reasonable allocation of resources between the sheriff's office and university police.

Southern Illinois University's Southwestern campus and the Madison county sheriff's office on Friday announced approval of a "memorandum of understanding" concerning law enforcement on the campus.

John Paul Davis, assistant for legal affairs to Chancellor John S. Rendleman, said the university recognized the limitations of law enforcement sources in the county, and accepts the responsibility for security on the campus.

If there is a need for additional security help on the campus, Sheriff George Musso will be contacted by the University and asked for the assistance of his office.

Davis pointed out this month that the Joint Legislative Commission on Campus Disorder heard testimony from state police officials that additional communications between universities and law enforcement agencies is necessary. He added that SIU-SW is working toward that goal.

GOING NOWHERE, Eddie Kennerly, son of Charles Kennerly, a Long Lake volunteer fireman, serves as a model for Mrs. Maxine Duniphan, American Red Cross first aid chairman, to demonstrate different styles of leg splints. On the left leg is an orally inflatable splint, while an improvised splint consisting of a board and materials at hand is used on the right limb. A First Aid Booth will be part of the local ARC's exhibit at the United Fun Fair.

Disaster Team to Demonstrate at Fair

A newly-formed "Disaster Action Team" and firemen from Long Lake volunteer fire department will join with Tri-City American Red Cross Chapter officials in presenting a series of special demonstrations at the chapter's booth at the United Fun Fair program Saturday and Sunday.

The public "Fun Fair" is expected to draw several thousand visitors this weekend at the Wilson Park rink pavilion. A total of more than 40 United Fund agencies and non-agencies will sponsor booths in connection with the second annual UF kickoff event.

The Red Cross booth will have games, with prizes for children and adults, Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, Tri-City Chapter executive director, said this week. All prizes to be distributed at the booth have been donated to the organization.

The booth will be decorated in a Red Cross theme with posters and flags predominating, along with scenes depicting various services offered by ARC units.

First Aid Demonstrations

First aid demonstrations will be presented throughout the two-day show under the supervision of Mrs. Maxine Duniphan, ARC first aid chairman. Films also will be shown and a qualified instructor from the local chapter will be on hand to answer questions, Mrs. Overbeck said. Red Cross youth from local high schools will assist in the booth.

The Tri-City Red Cross Chapter is headed by William F. Winter as chairman. The local office staff consists of Mrs. Overbeck, Mrs. Mildred Meehan, assistant executive secretary; and Mrs. Ruby Winters, volunteer chairman of the Bloodmobile visits and a part-time office employee.

Red Cross differs many services, but Mrs. Overbeck cited the one service that occupies most workday hours of the local staff — "Service to Military Families." This is the direct contact with a serviceman and his family, the director explained.

Jurisdiction of the Tri-City Chapter, a United Fund Agency, covers Granite City, Madison, Venice, Mitchell, Pontoon Beach and the surrounding rural area. Wires and long distance calls constantly are made on behalf of local service families, she noted.

In 1969, the chapter sent 1163 reports by wire or long distance telephone calls — all involving servicemen and their families from this area. The Red Cross is the official organization the military depends upon to verify a situation requiring emergency leave or extension of leave.

Emergency Procedure

Mrs. Overbeck expalined that in emergencies involving a death or critical illness of someone at home, the Red Cross worker must provide a physician's statement or verify with a mortuary or hospital and report their findings to the military before a serviceman is granted emergency leave.

An investigation of circumstances is as far as the Red Cross is involved. The decision to permit a soldier an emergency furlough is made by the military only, Mrs. Overbeck emphasized.

Many messages deal with the heartaches and frustrations caused by separation of families, the Red Cross executive noted. The military does care about the morale of the serviceman and recognizes and appreciates the importance of these messages, she added. Red Cross pays all reporting expenses, she added.

Community Representative

Red Cross is the only organization that maintains an office or volunteer worker in every community in the United States. For that reason, Travelers Aid makes use of the Red Cross reporting service. Chapters receive no funds from Travelers Aid and pays all long distance phone calls from its own funds as a public service.

Additionally, the Red Cross reports for the Job Corps in situations involving the need of a Job Corpsman's presence at home. This type of reporting is always initiated by the Job Corps and related telephone charges are paid by the Job Corps.

Red Cross field directors are stationed at all military installation in this country and overseas. The American National Red Cross in Washington, D. C. estimates at least one out of every five servicemen receive Red Cross assistance each year.

The National and International Red Cross intercedes for prisoners of war, and is continuing its efforts at present to negotiate in behalf of hostages held by Palestine guerrillas.

Assistance to veterans in filing claims with the Veterans Administration can be time consuming, but is very rewarding when the job is completed and the veteran receives his pension, Mrs. Overbeck said.

Water Safety Program

The Tri-City ARC Chapter has active Water Safety and First Aid programs, with Michael Jessee, heading the Water Safety division and Mrs. Maxine Duniphan, the Red Cross first aid department.

Mrs. Overbeck pointed out that all Girl Scout leaders, Bi-State bus drivers and firemen in Granite City, Mitchell and Pontoon Beach receive first aid instruction through the local Red Cross chapter. Civil Defense personnel likewise are required to take first aid training.

All first aid instruction provided by the Tri-City Chapter is given by qualified instructors who are volunteer workers, Mrs. Overbeck emphasized. Each contributes numerous hours of his or her time to the task of teaching others at no pay, she noted.

The Tri-City Chapter has a Red Cross Blood Program in area plans and at the Granite City Army Depot. Firemen and postal employees also are covered in a similar ARC program.

Another very important service of the Red Cross is its "Disaster Program," Mrs. Overbeck pointed out. Should a large-scale disaster strike this area, the Red Cross is geared to face all possible emergencies and works in cooperation with other disaster oriented agencies.

Disciplinary Hearings For 3 at University

SIU-SW is conducting disciplinary hearings for three students who were arrested in Philadelphia, Pa., and charged with possession of concealed weapons. When arrested, the students were in a university-owned automobile en route to a convention.

"The university has standard procedures, followed in all discipline cases, guaranteeing students a hearing and the right to be represented by counsel. Witnesses can be cross-examined on evidence presented; the procedure also provides methods of appeal. University disciplinary procedure protects the interests of the students and the university," Dr. John S. Rendleman, chancellor, has commented.

The three students involved in the Philadelphia incident are charged with violation of a published university regulation which says, "Students may not have firearms, other weapons, fireworks or explosives in their property, while attending university activity, or while living in quarters other than those of their parent or spouse."

If the students are found guilty in the hearing, a recommendation for disciplinary action will be made to Dr. Ramon Williamson, dean of students. The dean of students will notify those to be disciplined and they will have the right to appeal to the chancellor.

Pending disposition of the cases, the students are continuing classwork.

Kostoff allegedly left the scene of the accident and the chase continued through Nameoki and Fehling roads before he was stopped in the 2700 block of State street.

Granite City police charged him with leaving the scene of an accident, speeding, avoiding a traffic control and attempting to elude an officer.

Madison police report they first spotted Kostoff at 10:20 p.m. driving in an allegedly unusual manner at Third street and Madison avenue, when he refused to drive to the police station and refused to get in the police car, a second unit was called to assist. Kostoff then got back in his car and drove off, almost striking the two police cars. They chased him east on Third street to Madison avenue where he turned north and drove into Granite City at a high rate of speed.

He was returned to Madison police headquarters where he was charged with resisting arrest, improper lane useage, careless driving and attempting to elude police officers.

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church in Granite City has formed a group called the Volunteers of St. Elizabeth. They are ready, willing and able to help people who are victims of one disaster or another.

This group has recently been busy trying to accumulate Betty Crocker coupons. 600,000 of them to be exact, to acquire a Kidney Machine for a 17 year old boy in Detroit, Michigan who was unable to purchase this expensive machine. Just today, 12,500 coupons were sent to General Mills, the makers of Betty Crocker products, as a payment.

This brings to mind several instances of friends who had to be taken off a Kidney Machine after they could no longer afford to pay. Since the Volunteers of St. Elizabeth started this project other communities have offered their help due mainly to publicity in the Press-Record and KMOX at your service.

There are 2 things you can do to help. First you can send all your Betty Crocker coupons to St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, 2301 Pontoon Rd. in Granite City.

Second, you can pick up a UNIFORM DONOR CARD at this pharmacy or most other Pharmacies in the St. Louis area. This card is a legal document for donation of a Kidney or other organs you may choose to donate upon your death.

This is unique in that it doesn't cost you one penny and yet its value cannot be overestimated.

Punt, Pass, Kick Event Wednesday

On Wednesday, Sept. 30, annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition will take place at 4:15 p.m. at the GCHS football field.

Dick Yates is the contest director. Participants must sign up in advance at the B. E. Hohlt Ford agency, 1837 Madison avenue.

Proof of age must be given, and all boys must have passed their eighth birthday by Jan. 24, 1971. Any 13-year-old boy who becomes 14 on or before Jan. 24, 1971, will not be eligible.

Between 80 and 85 boys are expected to participate.

1,250,000 in U. S.

Nationally, more than 1,250,000 youngsters are expected to take part in the program, co-sponsored by the National and American conferences of the National Football League and the Ford dealers of America.

Punt, Pass and Kick has attracted more than 6,200,000 participants since its inception in 1961, in addition to the support of high school, college and professional football coaches across the country.

National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle describes Punt, Pass and Kick as the "finest youth athletic program" of its kind and notes that entrants compete only against boys their own age. Scoring is based on distance and accuracy in punting, passing and place kicking.

Competition begins at the local level and moves to zone, district, area, divisional and national levels. No entrance fee or special equipment is required. There is no body contact and participation does not impair a youth's amateur standing.

More Young Soccer Players Are Sought

Chuck says . . .

Archery has obtained a high point of interest just in the last few years. Many hunters are going to a bow as an achievement of skill and self pride. It is very true that a man must have a great deal of good marksmanship to down his game with a gun. But the ultimate in the sport of hunting is to stalk the animal, without his awareness, until you're within such a close range that you're sure he hears your heart throbbing. Until it seems that you and the beast are the only living things around. Then comes your moment of truth. How good are you? There he stands, not more than 25 yards away. Looks like about a ten pointer. Probably go 250 pounds. You take careful aim, draw your arrow, pause . . . now! Your arrow leaves with hardly a whisper, right on course. Beautiful shot, the big buck is down.

To be a good bow-hunter, one must remember that bow-hunting is not a test of strength, but a test of skill. Choose a bow you can shoot with comfort. Select arrows that are spined to fit the bow, and cut to fit you. If you would like professional help in selecting your archery equipment stop in at Earl's Discount Store and let's get together. TOUCHDOWN RUN at GCHS stadium Saturday afternoon, one of two by Mike Wilson (40). No. 60 of the Warriors is Dave Hordesky and No. 11 is Quarterback Don Harris. Blending a formidable ground offense with a stout defense, the hosts built a big early lead and added to it in the second half.

Wilson, Stagner, Harris, Melzer Help GC Top Cahokia, 33-12

By TERRY TOTH
GCHS Football Writer

Coach Wayne Williams' undefeated fighting Warriors chalked up their second win of the season as they clobbered the Cahokia Comanches 33-12 at the Granite City high school stadium Saturday afternoon.

The Warriors' offense was really in gear, as they rushed for a total of 430 yards. The defense held Cahokia to two touchdowns and intercepted two passes.

The most impressive player of the game was senior Mike Wilson; the 5-11, 180-pound halfback ran for a fantastic total of 210 yards and scored two TDs.

Quarterback Don Harris completed five of nine passes, one of which went for a touchdown.

The scoring started early in the first quarter when Cahokia was forced to punt.

The kick came to halfback Steve Stagner on his own 45 yard line and, following great blocking, he ran for a 55-yard touchdown. The extra point by Joe "The Toe" Wallace was good and made the score 7-0.

Less than five minutes later, Granite City had the ball again on the Cahokia 40-yard-line after the Comanches were forced to punt again.

This led to a 40-yard TD drive led by Wilson. From the Cahokia 10, Harris threw to Jeff Melzer for the second GCHS touchdown. Again the extra point kick by Wallace was good and the score rose to 14-0.

Score on 88-Yard Drive

Early in the second quarter, GCHS again was on the march, scoring this time after an 88-yard drive.

Passes to Melzer and running by Harris, Wilson and Dennis Kunneman brought the Warriors to the Cahokia four, from where Wilson went over for the third Granite City TD. The kick by Wallace made it 21-0.

Cahokia took the ball from its own 37 and scored on a pitchout to Don Hart and a 63-yard run.

The extra point try, a kick, was no good, leaving the score 21-6 in favor of GCHS.

A pass from Harris intended for Melzer was snared by Cahokia's Pat Leonard, but the gun sounded, ending the first half, before the visitors could capitalize on the interception.

Wallace Intercepts

Early in the second half, on a halfback option pass, Joe Wallace leaped high to take the ball from the Cahokia receiver. The interception set up another Granite City drive, this time 60 yards.

A clipping penalty against the Warriors set them back to their own 46, but Wilson barreled through to the Cahokia 32 and a first down.

Harris later ran from the 23 to the 16 and another first down. Harris next gave a handoff to Wilson and he ran from the 16 for his second TD.

After a high snap from center, Wallace failed to split the rights and score stood at 27-6.

GCHS Defense Sparkles

Cahokia threatened late in the third quarter on a 66-yard drive which the Warrior defense halted.

In the fourth quarter, Cahokia again threatened after recovering a fumble, but the Warrior defense stopped the Comanches cold.

GCHS was forced to punt from its 25-yard-line, and on another fine run, Don Hart of Cahokia made it to the GCHS 19.

A pass play from Dave Rowland to Gary Kharibian achieved the second Cahokia TD.

A pass for the extra point fell incomplete and GCHS still led 27-12.

TD by Kunneman

The last touchdown march started on the Granite City 45. A pass play from Harris to Stan Stavdahar brought Granite City to the Cahokia 20. A few plays later, from the one-yard-line Kunneman went over, making it 33-12.

After a penalty, the ball was set on the 18-yard-line and the kick by Wallace fell short.

Cahokia did not muster as powerful an offense as expected; it rushed for a total of 220 yards and the quarterback completed five of 13 passes.

After the beating Cahokia gave Collinsville the previous week, the Comanches failed to get up sufficient steam to beat Granite City.

Wilson, who has gained over 300 yards in two games has shown that he is one of the best backs in the Southwestern Conference.

Utz Wins Championship At Track, Spalding 2nd

Bill Utz, Sedalia, Mo., was named 1970 Tri-City Speedway point champion after Sunday's super-sprint car racing.

Utz placed second in the trophy dash and fourth in the feature race, and the points gained were enough to put him ahead of Wib Spalding of Granite City for the year.

Spalding was unable to race Sunday because of injuries suffered in a race three weeks ago at the local track. He ended the year second in the point standings.

Action Sunday included both super-sprint cars and hobby-stock cars competing on the half-mile dirt oval. About 650 persons paid to see the competition for the point championship of the year.

Third in the point standings for the year was Jimmy Moughon of Springfield with 2220 points, 190 behind Spalding and 240 behind Utz. Fourth was Dick Sutcliffe of Kansas City, Mo., with 1730.

Thirty-one super-sprint cars and 27 hobby cars competed in the day's event.

At 11 a.m. it seemed doubtful that racing would be possible on the muddy track, but wind and sun quickly dried it and dust, rather than mud, became the problem. By racing time, the track was "hard and slick," but the infield remained muddy, making it difficult to get the cars ready for each event.

BILL UTZ

The last auto racing of the year at Tri-City Speedway will be Sunday with a triple-header including super-sprints, midget cars and hobby cars.

Devils Bedevil MHS on Late Pass Play, 20-16

By ROBERT MANGOFF
MHS Football Writer

The Madison high school Trojans lost their second game of the 1970 football season Friday evening as they were defeated by the Maplewood-Richmond Heights Blue Devils 20-16 at Maplewood.

The Trojans were ahead for the first three quarters in this extremely close game, the score being 8-6 at the half and 16-14 at the end of the third period. However, MHS began to tire in the fourth quarter and, with about four minutes remaining in the game, the Devils scored a touchdown to take the lead and the game.

Both Madison touchdowns were scored by Edward Chandler, a 185-pound, 5-11 junior halfback, one being scored on a tremendous run from the Maplewood 47 into the end zone. The other TD was scored on a 26-yard scamper.

The other Trojan points were tallied by Dwayne Shaw, 200 pound, 5-11 senior halfback, who scored on conversion runs following each of Chandler's touchdown runs.

Madison as it did in its first game, relied heavily on a running attack although several passes from Quarterback Austin Lewis were run for long gains. The Devils, in contrast, had a balanced offense featuring the passing of Larry Todd.

Neither team could score in the first quarter of play, although there were several threats.

The opening kickoff, which went to the 30-yard line, was picked up by a Trojan halfback. However, the Maplewood squad ran downfield in time to tackle the player at the MHS 27.

After a run for a one-yard gain, a short pass went to Chandler, who ran the ball to the Madison 42 and a first down.

A penalty slowed the Trojans' advance and, after three plays, a fumble was recovered by Kevin Burgess of the Devils on the Maplewood 37.

The Devils also began moving the ball. Following a yard gain, Todd threw a pass Mike Fuhrman who ran from the Maplewood 40 to its 47. Another pass from Todd to Fuhrman following a short run put the ball on the MHS 39.

Prothro Intercepts

However, after four plays, Courtney Prothro, a 240-pound senior tackle, intercepted the ball on the 28 and ran it to the Trojan 29.

In the second quarter, after a Madison advance had been halted by penalties, the Trojans got on the scoreboard.

Following a Madison fumble recovery and run to the 26, Shaw and Chandler moved the ball quickly to the MHS 47. The Trojan team was assessed a penalty but a pass and a run by Chandler made it up.

TD Run by Chandler

After another penalty and three plays including a 10-yard Lewis-to-Welborn pass, Chandler ran 26 yards for the first touchdown of the game.

Taking the kickoff after the Madison TD, running back Harold Atterberry returned it from the 33 to the Devil 40. Todd made three passes in a row, the longest one going for 29 yards to the three-yard-line,

From there, Fuhrman ran it in for the touchdown. The conversion failed and Madison led 8-6.

Short Punt Aids MHS

The second half kickoff went to Maplewood, but after a 19-yard return by Atterberry the Devils' advance stalled. The punt by the Devils went only to the Maplewood 48.

Following a one-yard run, Chandler engineered a 47-yard touchdown run. The second conversion run by Shaw made the score 16-6.

Todd later scored on a one-yard plunge and Fuhrman ran for the extra points, score 16-14 as the final quarter began.

After a pass play from the Maplewood 47 to the Madison 49, Todd threw a pass to Fuhrman, who ran from the 20 into the end zone. A pass for the Devil conversion failed, but the hosts had the lead.

Although Madison had several opportunities to score, especially near the end of the game, the Trojans were unable to carry the ball into the end zone and had to accept their second loss in as many games,

The winning Warriors ran as follows: Gene Briggs, 2nd, 13:07; Doug Horton, 4th, 13:30; Howie Bryant, 5th, 13:40; Geoff Lux, 6th, 14:10; Scott Schneider, 10th, 14:33; Art Menendez, 11th, 14:43; and Tom Bull, 12th, 14:44.

A "get acquainted" theme will highlight the first regular meeting of the Grigsby junior high PTA at 7:30 this evening in the school cafeteria.

It is hoped that not only the old members—that can always be counted on—will be there, but also many new ones, especially those parents of seventh graders. This will afford them the opportunity of meeting a number of the faculty.

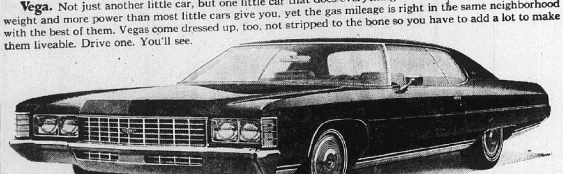

In order to know and better understand not only the curriculum, but the people involved, parents are invited to attend and be on top of the activity.

1971. You've changed. We've changed. Chevrolet
Worth seeing. Worth owning. Worth waiting for.

Vega. Not just another little car, but one little car that does everything well. You get more room, more weight and more power than most little cars give you, yet the gas mileage is right in the same neighborhood with the best of them. Vegas come dressed up, too, not stripped to the bone so you have to add a lot to make them liveable. Drive one. You'll see.

Caprice. There's a double layer of steel in the roof, a steel guard beam in each door, power disc brakes up front, a new power ventilation system inside, a wheelbase two and one-half inches longer. You get the looks and comfort of a six- or seven-thousand-dollar car, but at Chevrolet prices. And that's the kind of change during these tight-money times that all of us can appreciate.

A vanishing tailgate. A big change in our big wagon. The window goes up into the roof, the Glide-Away tailgate vanishes beneath the floor. Out of sight. Out of your way for easy loading even in a closed garage or when you have a trailer hooked on.

Stevenson for Delay in Supersonic Transport

State Treasurer Adlai E. Stevenson III, Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator, has urged postponement of the Supersonic Transport (SST) which he said threatens to cost the federal government $3 billion.

"This would be a positive step toward controlling inflation and might prevent an upset in the delicate structure of the stratosphere," he said while campaigning.

Stevenson said the cost of the SST was once set at $750 million, that more than $700 million already has been spent and that another $290 million is being requested for 1971. He said the administration "could spend more in 1971 to pollute the air than to clean it up."

"I'd rather spend money to get people home from work quickly and safely than to get a few people to Paris a few hours faster," Stevenson said. "Only 5% of all Americans will ever use the SST but everyone of us will hear it.

50-Mile-Wide Swath

"When the SST flies at supersonic speeds, it is going to cut a bone - rattling, glass - breaking swath 50 miles wide across the sky. And don't believe when they say they will prohibit the SST from flying over land. No one will remember that promise when the airlines start lobbying to fly into O'Hare Field, Chicago.

"And we don't know what other effects it will have. Responsible, unbiased scientists have said the exhaust products could upset the delicate structure of the stratosphere, raise the average temperature seven degrees centigrade, and create major climate changes all over the world.

"If we are serious about waste, trimming the federal budget, fighting inflation and conserving precious tax dollars, then the SST is the place to begin," Stevenson said.

Christian Businessmen To Meet In St. Louis

The 33rd Convention of Christian Businessmen's International will be held next month in The Chase-Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis. Businessmen throughout the Metropolitan area have been invited to attend.

Men from almost all possible businesses are represented in the Christian Business Men's Committee (CBMC), with the exception of church leaders. Pastors and priests are welcome to attend but may not join the organization so that businessmen may meet other businessmen on an non-denominational basis.

Discussions are scheduled to center on civic responsibilities, Christian employer - employee relationships, the Christian businessman in politics, how to recognize emotional depression and communication with the black businessman.

The convention will open Oct. 14 and the last through the Oct. 18 with all meetings held at the hotel. One luncheon session is scheduled for Stouffer's Riverfront Inn.

Further information on the activities may be obtained by writing Donald Henke, registration chairman, P. O. Box 15, St. Ann, Mo., 63074.

DR. LEO A. ROMAN

Dr. Leo Roman Heads Optometric Assn.

Dr. Leo A. Roman, Granite City optometrist with offices at 2775 Madison avenue, was elected president of the Southwestern Illinois Optometric Society, affiliate of the Illinois Optometric Association and the American Optometric Association, at the regular annual election meeting held last week at the Flaming Pit restaurant in Edwardsville.

Dr. Roman along with the vice-president, Dr. Ben. Rose of Granite City and secretary-treasurer, Dr. R. L. Rosenthal of Highland, were elected by acclamation after Dr. James Streiter, nominating committee chairman, submitted the slate of officers for society approval.

The formal installation of officers will be held at the annual Illinois Optometric Association convention in Chicago Oct. 23-25.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the adoption of a "Prolonged Emergency Program" by members to cooperate with a member-doctor not able to fulfill his optometric duties in his absence from his practice because of ill health, accident or with his widow in case of death. Assisting members are to help run his practice until an emergency no longer exists.

A report also was given concerning the new "soft" contact lens and how this major break-through in research and new development will benefit contact lens patients in the future. The new "soft" lens promises greater comfort and longer initial wearing time, allowing the patient faster and easier adaptation to the lens.

The Women's auxiliary also conducted their regular meeting.

Computer Age Arrives at Lincoln Training Center

A new data processing training program was initiated this week at the Venice Lincoln Technical Center located on South Fourth street in Venice. The new program will prepare students to cope with a phase of the electronic age.

Miss Pat Johnson, an expert in data processing, has joined the staff and will be the instructor for data processing.

Lincoln Technical Center students may receive a wide variety of helpful instruction ranging from general interest courses, such as family living, home maintenance and repair, to vocational oriented courses such as nurse aide training and comprehensive business courses in shorthand, typing, accounting, office procedures and related subjects.

No charge is made for most of the courses offered, although a small charge is made in some areas. The center is jointly funded by the state and federal governments.

Enrollment is constant and continuing, instructors said. Last year more than 500 persons took training of some type at the center. This year an even larger enrollment is expected. More than 225 students are now enrolled in the various day programs.

Night programs will be held from 6:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The night programs will include classes in the basic language arts of learning to read, write and speak better, mathematics, home maintenance, the new date processing, typing, shorthand, family living and social studies.

Persons living in the area interested in learning more about the programs are invited to visit the center.

The center is located on South Fourth street in Venice. Persons may telephone for information at 876-7792.

Any area resident 16 or older, and not in school, may enroll for training.

Eagle Rank to Scout Tom Jones

Tom Jones, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Jones, Rural Route Two, a member of Boy Scout Troop 41 sponsored by the Mitchell PTA, received the coveted Eagle award last week in a special Eagle court of honor.

George Bugle, scoutmaster of Troop 41 for the past 20 years, presented the award.

Mick Strange, representing the Cahokia Mound Council, presented the Eagle charge to the candidate and officially confirmed the award.

Jones has 24 merit badges, or three more badges than the required total for Eagle rank.

He holds the Webelos award, highest in cub scouting and is a junior assistant scoutmaster of the troop. He is a brotherhood member of the Order of the Arrow, scouting's national honor camping society.

A sophomore at GCHS he is interested in becoming an auto mechanic or a heavy equipment operator.

Eagle Scout Jones earned three-fourths of his merit badges during the past four summers, when he spent a week each summer at Camp Sunnen.

The Leland Jones family is a scouting family. Jones has been active since his oldest son, Herman, joined a cub pack over eight years ago. Mrs. Jones was a den mother for several years, and Herman has only five merit badges to go to complete his Eagle requirements.

Miss Elizabeth Harris, Ronald Fields Married

Miss Patricia Harris, sister of the bride who served as maid of honor, wore a full-length sleeveless gown of blue organza and dacron polyester. The skirt was gathered slightly at the Empire waist bodice and enhanced with tiny white daisies. Her flowers were white pom pons tinted to match her gown.

Serving as best man to Mr. Fields was Harold Taylor, a cousin of the bride.

A reception for family and friends was held in the church basement immediately following the ceremony.

Overpopulation a Principal Cause Of Growing Environmental Crises

To the Editor:

It may yet be written that mankind — ignoring the warnings of scientists — continued to brutalize his environment and so brought upon himself a new Ice Age.

A prominent biologist with whom I have appeared on TV believes the human species to be so far down the road to extinction he no longer pays for life insurance. I am more optimistic. Nature's bills for our vandalism will be high but mankind can survive. At stake is the quality of our life from this time on.

Overpopulation is the backdrop for our environmental crisis and for a score of social problems that steadily make our earth less livable. The chaos of our cities; the growing polarization between rich and poor nations; wars and political upheaval are all multiple effects of the population surge.

Half the world is trapped in misery and squalor, hunger and privation.

This year, four million will die of starvation; millions more will be stunted physically or mentally by protein deprivation.

With our global population expected to double in 30 years, these problems can only get worse.

Americans are feeling the squeeze — in our impacted cities, our choking highways, our disfigured land. We feel it in power failures and water shortages; in smog and sewage and slums.

By the year 2000 at our present rate of growth, we must make room for 300 million Americans, 244 million cars, six trillion pounds of garbage. What happens to the quality of our life then?

Our rivers and lakes are open sewers; emphysema is claiming lives at an alarming rate; and noise has damaged the hearing of three out of five men.

We suicidally abuse our environment — by our numbers, our technology. Seventy-eight species of animals are in danger of extinction.

Unless we can limit our numbers — unless we recognize that the earth does not belong to us, but that we belong to it—man may follow the bald eagle into oblivion.

Planned Parenthood/World Population is the only private organization through which an individual can work to curb population growth in 102 countries, including our own.

Through programs of direct service, technical assistance, public education, research and training, PP/WP in partnership with governments — and frequently alone — is cutting birthrates from Mexico to the Philippines, from Washington to New Orleans.

In the U. S. alone, 525 clinics, run by PP Affiliates, provide birth control help to nearly a half-million low income women.

Planned Parenthood programs here and overseas will cost $24.5 million in 1970.

The facts are incontrovertible. Unless we act now to stem the population tide, we invite disaster.

HAZARDS 'BEHIND THE MILL' BEING IGNORED

To the Editor:

It seems that the only time the people behind the mill, along East 20th street, can get anything done is right before election time.

Other than that, no one seems to think we even exist. It's a shame. We pay taxes just like everyone else.

For instance, we have homes back here that are nothing but rat traps and fire hazards. They should have been torn down three years ago.

I would like for the state fire marshall to see these, and I am sure he would agree.

If something isn't done, then they can just forget us at election time.

EAST 20TH TAXPAYER

TAVERN KEEPERS FACE LOSS OF LIVELIHOOD

To the Editor:

There have been many words, printed and spoken, about the four o'clock closing hour now in effect in Madison.

Most people don't realize the plight of the tavern owner. These people who wish the privileage to remain open till four o'clock are not greedy people, but need those extra hours to make a living.

The taverns in Madison pay $500 in city license fees. They also pay over $100 in state and federal licensing fees.

The tavern owner pays a much higher personal property tax than the average individual due to all paraphernalia they have to operate.

The city also receives one-half per cent of all state sales taxes paid by the taverns. With paying the help and operating expenses, it takes a good deal of money to operate.

If the new closing hour goes into effect, many of the owners may wish to sell their business, but pending legislation won't even allow the tavern owner this privilege, which seems to be adding insult to injury.

Although there are not many people involved, their jobs or businesses are just as important to them as to the person who works in a steel mill, etc.

Most tavern owners have a great deal of money and years tied up in their business.

A citizens' group was appointed to study the tavern closing hour. A majority of this group are near teetotalers, which is very unfair. That would be like appointing a group of atheists to study church reforms.

The opponents of the four o'clock closing hour say that there are too many late-hour disturbances. Well, even the police department will admit the vast reduction of disturbances with the closing of one tavern.

Tavern owners would be happy to cooperate with the police to keep trouble to a minimum, because trouble is bad for business. So I hope the city council gives it more thought before they go ruining people's livelihood.

Shoplifting Can Be Curbed if All Stress Seriousness of the Crime

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

Shoplifting is a crime punishable by a fine, prison term, or both, and more and more retail store operators are turning offenders, regardless of their age, over to local law enforcement authorities.

September is one of the critical months of the year in the effort to combat shoplifting.

Back-to-school sales at department, apparel and specialty stores ordinarily are accompanied by an increase in shoplifting, especially by teenagers, who account for more than half of the multi-billion-dollar loss suffered annually by stores across the country due to shoplifting.

Unfortunately, many young shoplifters fail to recognize the seriousness of the crime, when their only punishment is a warning from the victimized merchant and a scolding from parents.

For this reason, increasing numbers of offenders are being turned over to proper authorities for discipline. In this way, the youthful offenders discover the seriousness of their offense.

As part of an in-store campaign to discourage shoplifters, store operators are encouraged to display a warning which is provided by law under Chapter 38, Art. 10, Sect. 3. It reads as follows:

"Any merchant, his agent or employee, who has probable cause to believe that a person has wrongfully taken or has actual possession of and is about to wrongfully take merchandise from a mercantile establishment, may detain such person in a reasonable manner and for a reasonable length of time for the purpose of investigating the ownership of such merchandise.

"Such reasonable detention shall not constitute an arrest nor an unlawful restraint nor shall it render the merchant, his agent or employee liable to the person detained."

School officials, through educational programs, are being urged to deal frankly with the shoplifting problem and to warn young people of the seriousness of the crime, the penalties provided and the social stigma and other implications of a criminal record.

One educational campaign, conducted in Champaign, Ill., with the support of educators, law officials and merchants, brought a 75% decline in shoplifting in that community.

Monday Holiday Law Will Bring About Many Changes in the Way People Spend Their Time

One of the more abrupt changes in the way that Quad-Cityans live will confront them simultaneously with the time they hang up their new calendars. Effective in 1971, occasions like Washington's birthday, Memorial Day, Columbus Day and Veterans' Day will join Labor Day as a Monday holiday.

The "long wekends," it is estimated, will grow to eight for many people in certain years, depending on the day non-variable holidays occur. This is expected to be an enormous boost for leisure and travel industries as well as expanding the market for home recreation and hobby equipment.

The "do it yourself" fad should get major impetus, and people who have been promising themselves that they are going to start reading books may actually find the time to do so.

Added manpower problems are a certainty in the fields which must continue to provide services around the clock 365 days a year, but the overall blessings for the individual, from the standpoint of living a fuller life, may be immense.

Unfortunately, there are predictions that a portion of the population will find time weighing heavily on its hands during the numerous three-day weekends. And more than a few people, having succeeded in limiting their regular job in order to get more time to "enjoy life," will instead moonlight in a second job.

Sheriff Can Afford to Buy His Own Meals

A legal ruling by the state's attorney's staff Thursday that the Madison county jail may provide food "solely for prisoners" is a common sense decision that probably should have been made years ago. Sheriff Musso and his successors no longer are to be given steaks and other groceries free of charge.

The ruling was brought about by the persistent efforts of Wood River Township Supervisor Rodger Elble to have the practice halted. Sheriff Barney Fraundorf had ended the procedure in 1962-66 but the tradition was resumed by the present sheriff when he began the latest of his terms in the office four years ago.

Estimating the cost to taxpayers at in excess of $4500 in recent years, Elble hopes to obtain restoration of the funds. It remains to be seen whether this will be possible, but it would appear he has performed a public service in spotlighting the issue.

At least, in the future, the appetite of competing candidates will not have to be estimated by voters in the course of deciding whether they can afford to elect their favorite.

Proposed Uniform Tavern Hours Can Ease The Law Enforcement Burden in Madison

There no doubt is widespread sympathy with many Madison tavern operators, who have been caught in the inflation squeeze along with everyone else and, as they point out, pay considerable sums in license fees and taxes.

But their plea is only one of the factors which will need to be considered by the Madison city council in determining whether to accept citizens' and aldermen's recommendations that an earlier closing hour be adopted.

For a number of years many of the taverns in Madison have remained open legally until 4 a.m., and on some occasions in recent years a few were known to operate without any regard whatever to the time of day or night.

The issue is not whether there should be taverns but whether their operations should be so different from those of other cities and unincorporated areas in this region.

In this highly mobile era, all-night hours seem to have as their main intent the attracting of customers from the surrounding area, not merely the patronage of local residents. In any case, this is what has happened; they do attract many out-of-towners.

Those who have consumed all the law will allow them elsewhere drive to Madison to drink some more, and often become involved in disturbances and traffic accidents. With so many people legitimately on the streets throughout the night, police also have a harder time watching out for burglars and other law violators.

Whether or not a 2 a.m. law is established for one night, Saturday, or two nights, Friday and Saturday, this kind of regulation in combination with a 1 a.m. limit on other nights would go a long way toward easing the law enforcement problem.

There may be slight variations on hours elsewhere in this region, but in general, 1 a.m. weekdays and 2 a.m. weekends is the standard that has developed, and there is widespread hope that Madisonians will decide in favor of uniformity. A complicating factor is the way daylight saving time is interpreted; the interpretation should be made clear in whatever law is enacted by the council members.

Assessment Exemptions Intensify Local Government Agencies' Revenue Squeeze

If inflation and high taxes were not sufficient reasons, Granite City taxing agencies have an additional reason to expend their revenue judiciously. A $4 million loss in auto assessments, a $2 million drop in the valuation of household furnishings and a $2 million cutback due to homestead exemptions will eliminate an estimated $437,600 in funds otherwise due to the taxing bodies.

The same property base remains, but the legislature in 1969 eliminated personal property assessments on furniture and on one auto per household and also provided homestead exemptions of $1500 each on real estate property owned by persons 65 or older.

Although such losses have been partly offset by other funds, they come at a time when a serious tax squeeze already has been developing.

Government officials, it seems clear, are going to have to devote increasing attention to budget balancing. Although it may seem old-fashioned, it is still a good idea for them to know where a dollar is coming from before they spend it.

Enrollment Rise Challenges Schools to Provide Facilities Economically

By ROBERT M. BECKWITH Manager, Education Dep't., Illinois State Chamber of Commerce
(Second of a series)

The Valley View School District, Romeoville, Ill., faced the challenge and realized the success of getting a year-round program under way was dependent on total community understanding and support.

This meant complete cooperation of parents, churches, service clubs, youth organizations and civic leaders as well as commerce and industry.

The "Valley View 45-15 Continuous School Year Plan" was born of the necessity to acquire additional classrooms in a growing district which had reached the legal limit of its bonding power for the construction of new schools.

This elementary school district, located about 35 miles southwest of the heart of Chicago, was experiencing a phenomenon familiar to many districts across the nation.

Its enrollment was increasing more rapidly than it had the economic resources to construct additional school buildings — buildings that normally would sit silent during the traditional three months of summer vacation.

From a total school enrollment seventeen years ago of 89, the district had grown to nearly 5500 pupils in 1969-70 and was faced with the problem of enrolling an additional 1700 pupils for 1970-71 — an enrollment surge partly attributed to a state law mandating elementary schools to offer kindergarten.

Previous experience with double shifts to relieve overloading was found less than satisfactory. The people of Valley View wanted something different and better.

As a result, District 96, using the basic concept of operating school facilities on a year-round basis, began a student attendance schedule June 30, 1970, offering success where most other year-round programs — tried off-and-on across the nation—had failed or been abandoned.

Advance planning is crucial:

Any effort to change to year-round school operation must be preceded by a thorough assessment of the community's expectation of its schools and the support it desires to provide toward reaching identified goals.

In Valley View's case, at least two years of study and preparation preceded the actual implementation of the 45-15 Plan.

At the request of the school board, the administrative staff was directed to design an acceptable alternative to the traditional school year. One of the first steps taken was to conduct a feasibility study made possible through a grant awarded by the Office of Education in the Chicago Regional Office, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Of particular significance in the study was a community survey to determine which of several basic approaches, including split and double shifts, the citizens desired.

The results of the survey, coupled with the other findings of the feasibility study, indicated a support for the basic approach leading to the "45-15 Continuous School Year Plan."

As the Plan took shape, progress reports were made regularly to the school board and the community. Where necessary, the board authorized the staff to proceed further.

Although charged with the responsibility of designing the plan, the administrative staff recognized many of the details and problems to be resolved called for the involvement of those who would be affected.

Discussions were held with parent groups, the local teacher's association, civic agencies, churches, and cross-sections of the general community not only for informative purposes but to identify additional problems which might arise.

For example, Valley View solved the problem of families having their children scheduled for different 45-15 groups by arranging for all children of one neighborhood to attend school and vacation together.

This also reduced by about 25% the geographical area covered by school buses.

Without the cooperative participation of many individuals and organizations in solving the various problems that arose, the Valley View 45-15 Plan could not have been implemented.

Another major consideration was whether the plan was workable under state law and the administrative procedure established thereunder by the Illinois Office of Public Instruction.

After evaluation, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Ray Page authorized his staff to assist Valley View in devising those administrative procedures necessary for the 45-15 Plan to operate under various state rules and regulations.

The Illinois School Code had to be amended through legislation to give local school boards authority to operate on a full school year plan.

The needed legislation was passed and signed into law June 29 and the Valley View 45-14 Continuous School Year Plan was under way the next day.

Rockford Viewpoint--Defense of Nation Paramount Senate Issue

(Rockford Register-Star)

We recommend Senator Smith on the basis of his record in the U. S. Senate. Senator Smith has used his Illinois legislative experience to good advantage. He has engendered high respect from his fellow senators in a short period of time.

This is best illustrated by the forum of his colleagues who came to Illinois to "hypo" his campaign.

Smith's Illinois legislative experience dates back to 1954, when he first was elected to the Illinois House. He became majority whip in the House in 1963, and twice was elected House Speaker, in 1967 and 1969.

Smith's Democratic opponent has a famous name with a Roman numeral behind it, Adlai E. Stevenson III. His grandfather Adlai I and his father Adlai II made the name famous.

Adlai III seeks to add more fame to it, and this name thing has made it very difficult for Ralph Smith in the early stages of the campaign. There are lots of Smiths, but there aren't too many Adlai Stevensons.

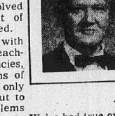

This particular Stevenson's record of political service does not yet measure up to his distinguished forebears or to Ralph Smith's.

Smith's Senate record supports President Nixon and he makes no apologies for it. Smith consistently has backed Nixon's Vietnamization of the war.

Although Stevenson has said he is opposed to a "precipitous withdrawal," he also expressed dismay at the defeat of the McGovern - Hatfield Amendment, which would have hobbled the President. Smith has been a strong supporter of the President on the anti-ballistic missile issue.

In the assignment of priorities, we happen to believe that the defense of the nation is paramount. So does Senator Smith apparently.

Smith has declared that crime in the streets and campus disorders are among the principal issues of the campaign. Stevenson has been trying desperately to rid himself of his description of Chicago police as "storm troopers in blue" after the 1968 Democratic National Convention. We recommend Senator Ralph T. Smith for election to Senator Dirksen's vacated seat in the U. S. Senate.

Santagato-Krumrey

Of local interest was the wedding consecration of Miss Nancy Jean Krumrey, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Krumrey, Grayslake, Ill., and Louis Roger Santagato, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Santagato, 2525 Edwards street. Rev. Robert Voss officiated at the double ring ceremony Sept. 19 at St. John's Evangelical Church, Libertyville.

Bands of Venise lace highlighted the stand-up neckline, full satin skirt and flowing train of the bridal gown, which was fashioned with a bodice of silk organza sprinkled with appliqued flowers. Her chapel-length veil was gathered in a cluster on her Juliet cap, covered with appliqued lace.

The former Miss Krumrey carried a bouquet of white stephanotis, orchids and light green carnations over a lace-covered Bible, which was a gift from the groom's mother. The Bible has been in the Family for over 130 years and had been carried by two of the groom's sisters on their wedding days. Around the bride's neck was a watch which had been the engagement gift of her paternal grandfather to her grandmother 57 years ago.

Attendants were a sister of the bride and Mrs. Walter Ingstrup of Skokie, Ill., Mrs. James Hopwood of Evanston, Ill., who designed and made the bride's gown and the attendants' dresses, and Miss Connie Parli of Maquon, Ill., who served as vocalist. Flower girls were Kathy Krumrey, niece of the bride, and Julie Grider, niece of the groom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Grider of Granite City. A nephew of the bride, Ricky Krumrey, served as ring bearer.

Another local resident, David Toth, served as best man. Groomsmen were Frank Cozart, Granite City, David Krumrey, Waukegan, brother of the bride, and Jerry Grider, brother-in-law of the groom.

The bridesmaids wore turquoise crystaline chiffon over taffeta. Full sleeves, ruffled necklines and cuffs accented the floor-length, Victorian-style gowns. The bodices of the gowns were trimmed in yellow velveteen ribbons interwoven with white lace.

They carried bouquets of mixed flowers and their headpieces were made of flowers in the same shades as their bouquets.

The flower girls wore yellow crystaline chiffon over taffeta with bands of lace identical to that of the bride's dress trimming the short puffed sleeves and bodices. White appliqued flowers sprinkled the flowing floor-length skirts. They carried baskets of flowers in vivid colors and matching flowers in their hair.

Mrs. Krumrey chose blue silk with matching accessories and the groom's mother wore light cocoa silk with matching accessories. Both wore white orchids.

A reception was held in the Village Green Country club, Mundelein, Ill., and following a trip to Kentucky the couple will live in Mahomet, Ill., while the groom completes his studies at the University of Illinois for a bachelor's degree in accounting. He served three years in the U. S. Army as a lieutenant and was stationed in Korea for a year.

The bride attended the University of Illinois and Kendall College, and received a Bachelor's degree in English and psychology from Carthage College in Kenosha, Wis. She taught for a year in Kenosha and will be working in the Champaign area.

The conference opened with posting of the colors by Collinsville Girl Scout Troop 610 and the Pledge of Allegiance led by State Sen. Vadalabene of Edwardsville. Miss Eulalia Holz, Madison county clerk, gave the invocation and the conferees were welcomed by Mayor William Straube of Edwardsville and university officials.

Meeting Set Tomorrow On Lake Development

The meeting was arranged by Mrs. Vernon Dickinson, 910 Bend road, and her neighbors.

Area residents have been reluctant to make improvements in preparation for winter because of uncertainty about when acquisition of land will start.

Director Dan Malkovich has agreed to answer questions and explain the state's plans and timetable for the land acquisition.

The fire hall is located at 740 Layton road in the Bend Road area. The public is invited to attend.

General Steel Expects Loss in Third Quarter

The anticipated second half improvement in earnings of General Steel Industries, Inc., is not materializing and the company expects a loss in the third quarter, W. Ashley Gray jr., president, said Friday after a meeting of the board of directors.

Gray said a number of adverse factors combined to cut off an upturn in GSI's earnings which had developed in the second quarter.

The St. Louis Car Division has incurred losses on the manufacture of non-transit product lines scheduled for production before initial deliveries begin on two large orders for rapid transit and commuter cars.

Operations of the Castings Division have been affected by the lack of railroad orders and a strike at a Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant in Pennsylvania which has stopped delivery of steam turbine castings.

The absence of any appreciable improvement in the national economy has also served to retard the sale of other GSI products.

Big Order Backlog

"While these developments are disappointing," Gray added, "we are encouraged by our order backlog which stands at $146,000,000 today compared with $49,000,000 at this time last year.

"We look forward to a return to a satisfactory profit level in 1971, when we will be delivering a substantial number of rapid transit and commuter cars."

General Steel Industries, Inc., operates 25 plants in the U.S. and abroad and supplies a wide range of industrial and other markets. Corporate headquarters are in St. Louis and the Castings Division headquarters are in Granite City.

Housing Need Topic At SIMAPC Meeting

The shortage of housing across the nation has the reached critical stage and a solution is mandatory for economic growth, 45 members of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Plan Commission were told at its quarterly dinner-meeting Thursday night at the Sunset Hills Country Club.

The speaker was Robert H. Freilich, professor of law at the University of Missouri at Kansas City, who revieved the problems and approaches to solutions and commented on specific types of housing.

Named to a nominating committee were Henry Karandjeff, association president who conducted the meeting, Edward Delmore, Harry Briggs, Wetzel Harness, Raymond Rippelmeyer, Robert Kronst, Charles Chenoweth, Ed Leamon, Alton May and Jack Norman.

Freak Accident

The auto of Gary R. Marcum, 1557 Johnson road, was damaged in a freak accident at 6:30 p.m. Friday on McCambridge avenue at the viaduct in Madison, when the hood of the auto of John Jameson, St. Louis, flew off and struck the Marcum auto, damaging the left front and windshield.

RETIRING AFTER 31 YEARS in the motor hotel business, Mr. and Mrs. Al Suhre (left) have sold the Midwest Motel, Chain of Rocks road at Route 203, Mitchell, to Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Tingley (right). The Suhres, shown being honored at a dinner, are moving to Glen Crossing road. They operated the Worden Y Tourist Court from 1939 to 1953 and the Midwest Motel for the past 17 years.

Charge Reduced, Woman is Fined; 2 Get Probation

A St. Louis woman charged with murder in the Venice saloon stabbing of her husband was fined $500 on a reduced charge and placed on a year's probation last week by Associate Circuit Judge Michael Kinney in Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville.

The charge was reduced to reckless conduct on a motion by the state's attorney's office.

She is Mrs. Geraldine Curtis, 40, who had been charged with killing her husband, Silas Curtis jr., 53, at the Robin's Nest tavern in Venice.

Her guilty plea was entered by her attorney to the reduced charge "in that she, while in the act of defending herself, a lawful act, did recklessly use excessive force and cause bodily harm."

She had been free on $15,000 bond which has been returned.

Probation Granted

In other criminal coure action last week:

Dennis Lee Pulley of Collinsville was granted two years probation and is to report to his probation officer by mail while he is in military service. A probation hearing also is set Wednesday for Ricky Howell of Granite City. Both pleaded guilty to burglary charges in connection with a burglary ring here.

James E. Jones, 19, of South Roxana, pleaded guilty to a burglary charge at the Granite City Dodge agency in April and applied for probation.

Jesse Ybarra of St. Louis pleaded guilty to one charge of illegal possession of narcotics and applied for probation with a hearing set today. Trials for Ybarra and Alvin Thompson are set today, also on narcotics possession charges.

Cases continued until Nov. 9 were those of Harold Vaughn, arson and theft; Granville Butler and Betty Gabelman, theft; and William J. Politte, James J. Winslow, William Derrick and George H. Jones, three burglary counts.

Free Meals Out For Sheriff

Free meals for Madison county Sheriff George Musso and his family will be discontinued, according to a legal opinion by Marshall Smith, assistant state's attorney.

Smith presented the opinion following numerous complaints by Rodger Elble, Nameoki township supervisor, who also is demanding a refund for food consumed by the family since Musso became sheriff on Dec. 1, 1966. He estimated that the food had cost the taxpayers about $4500.

County Auditor John Kraynak was told by Smith that state statutes provide that food served at the jail is to be solely for prisoners.

The jail has living quarters for the sheriff and his family, and the practice is in use in most of the state by county sheriffs, though former Sheriff Barney Fraundorf purchased his own food.

Smith said he would seek a refund if signed vouchers for payment of groceries and meat were presented to the auditor, but Kraynak said the food vouchers are not signed by the sheriff.

Daughter Born to Victor Darnells

Mr. and Mrs. Victor L. Darnell of Edwardsville are announcing the birth of their first child, a daughter, Sept. 23 at Alton Memorial Hospital. The new arrival weighed six pounds, seven ounces and she has been named Rachal Leah.

Mrs. Darnell is the former Nancy Lynn Jargon, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jargon, Beckmeyer, Ill. Paternal grandparents are Edward Darnell and Mrs. Norma Jean Darnell, both of Granite City.

Window Shot Out

A shotgun blast blew a two and one-half foot hole in a 5-by-10-foot plate glass window at Ed's Auto Body, Sixth street and McCambridge avenue, Madison, about 5:30 a.m. Sunday. Police said the shot apparently was fired from close range. Glass was scattered throughout the shop.

Indecency Charged

Earl D. Abney, 30, of 2235 Monroe street, was arrested Thursday on charges of taking indecent liberties with a child and obstructing justice at 2000 Edison avenue. He was held at the Madison county jail in lieu of $7000 bond.

An auto driven by Dorrence K. Darling, Collinsville, was struck in the right side by a car driven by Ira A. Wilson, 1107 Douglas street, Venice, who was turning left at 21st street and Grand avenue at 12:50 p.m. Friday.

Registration Under Way

Pre-Kindergarten Center At "Y" to Open Monday

The YMCA pre-kindergarten program will begin its fall session next Monday, according to Charles H. Hasse, youth director.

Registrations, for four-year-olds and three-year-olds who will be four by Nov. 13 are now being accepted at the YMCA for classes to be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Classes will emphasize "creative instruction" to stimulate individual awareness and preparation for the public school. They also will cover the traditional nursery school concepts of etiquette training and supervised play periods.

Require Health Certificate

A health certificate is required of enrollees under standards of the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, Hasse said. A birth certificate must be shown at the time of registration.

Classes will be limited to a maximum of 15 children and a minimum of ten per teacher. No supplies are required, but youngsters may bring a book, record or toy to share with the group if desired.

Mrs. Marsha Watson will serve as teacher for the YMCA kindergarten program this year, assisted by Mrs. Marty Herman.

The fee for the 16-session fall quarter is $30 cash, or $36 on a payment plan. No classes will be held on Monday's Oct. 12, Columbus Day and Wednesday, Nov. 11, Veteran's Day, Hasse advised.

A.R.C.H. is also concerned with community education on the subject of alcoholism which is the third leading killer in our country. Seminars are conducted for interested persons in the community, but individual help and counsel is available for anyone with a drinking problem or for the family of such a person. Knowledgeable advice on what to do about a drinking problem and where to go for specialized help can be obtained by contacting the home.

HOW DOES THE PROGRAM WORK?

To gain admittance to the home, the applicant must have a sincere desire to stop drinking. The average applicant stays at the home for three months and pays toward his upkeep if he is employed and able to contribute. To date, 80% of the residents have been able to leave the home with their alcoholism arrested, with a job, and with the new-found self-respect necessary for them to again become contributing members of society.

THE AMERICAN SOCIAL HEALTH ASSOCIATION

Budgeted $770

The specific social ills concerning the American Social Health Association are drug abuse, venereal disease and commercialized prostitution. These ills stem from a factor common to all three—family failure. The cost of these in dollars is estimated in billions. The price of human misery cannot be measured. To reduce this waste ASHA's program provides voluntary leadership, research, consultation and information.

Today the heroin addict is only one index of the problem of drug dependence and abuse in the United States. There is also: The 12 year old glue sniffer, the pot head, the "hippie", the LSD tripper, the regular user of pep pills, excessive users of barbituates and tranquilizers.

The American Social Health Association is the only national voluntary agency giving major emphasis to work on drug abuse, venereal disease and commercial prostitution. The nature of these problems and activities compels ASHA to focus on youth and to work through institutions effecting youth development.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

CAHOKIA MOUND COUNCIL

Budgeted $52,500

The Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, is FIFTY years old, and has served all of the communities of the Tri-Cities United Fund throughout these years.

America is a disturbed land. Problems mount and frustrations surround us. Young people are deeply involved, whether it be discontent, demonstrations and riots in our cities, or our escalating crime rate. Some of our youth seem to lack the desire to relate to this nation's traditions. They are not accepting the responsibilities of a free society as we know them; some are refusing it to inherit the leadership we want to pass on to them, and it becomes readily apparent that a positive force to capture their attention and interest is essential.

SERVING THE BOY
For 59 years, the Boy Scouts of America has cultivated in boys a respect for God and country and a desire for active minds and bodies that will enable them to make the right choices in preparation for responsibilities as citizens.

CUB SCOUTING
This is a home and family-centered program for boys 8 through 10 years of age. It features a weekly den meeting directed by a Den Mother or Den Leader and a monthly gathering of dens at a pack meeting under a Cubmaster.

BOY SCOUTING
An outdoor program of Scoutcraft and leadership skills, for boys 11 through 17 years old, organized into patrols under their own leadership, within a troop.

EXPLORING
This is for young men of high school age, who plan and run their post programs under elected leadership and guided by an adult Explorer Advisor. The selected programs identify an Explorer post as either "general interest" or special interest."

If your son wishes to join in any of these programs he may ask a Scout who belongs, in his neighborhood, or he may call the Cahokia Mound Council Service Center — 876-0686 and we will be ready to help him join the program phase of his interest.

A two week day camp, with the cooperation of the Granite City Park District, is held at Wilson Park each summer. Other activities include a Bowling League and a Saturday Activity Center for young adult retardates. The group cooperates with the local school district by providing transportation for field trips for all Special Education classes in Granite City. A scholarship is also awarded every 4 years to a local high school graduate who is interested in teaching the retarded child.

TRI-CITIES AREA UNITED FUND

WHY THE UNITED WAY?

There are many ways people that you know are receiving benefits directly from your United Fund agencies. The little retarded girl down the street, the unwed mother, the boys and girls who, through participation in the programs of the Boy Scouts, YMCA, and Girl Scouts, are receiving the training that leads to happier and more productive lives. There are also programs of guidance that assist children, young people and adults and numerous health services available to all. These are only a few of the agency services provided by you and your neighbors through your United Fund. All this and more comes wrapped up in a "once for many" appeal from 19 United Fund agencies and the AFL-CIO Community Services.

So you should feel a sense of community pride each time you think of your United Campaign and the fact that you locally budget, locally allocate and locally administrate your United Fund Dollars . . . Dig a little deeper, increase your pledge, and make sure the agencies have enough money to continue their vital services to you.
